Citing Figures in APA Style
IN 303

Figures are graphs, charts, maps, drawings and photographs.

When including a figure in a paper, the figure is assigned a number and a descriptive note. This information appears immediately below the figure.

The figure is cited on the references list.

The following examples from the APA Blog are appropriate for use with figures taken directly (no changes made) from journal articles or websites.

Journal Article Figure Descriptive Note

Explanation

Journal Article Figure References List Entry

Website Figure Descriptive Note

Explanation

Website Figure References List Entry